Practice Series

Coach Brown turned his baseball team loose on Folsom Friday afternoon, and when the smoke of battle cleared, the score read: El Dorado 12, Folsom 3. On Saturday, the Cougars went to Sacramento to play Christian Brothers, who cleaned up on the less experienced locals, 13 to 2. The El Doradoans played San Juan on Tuesday, and on Saturday they go to Sacramento to play McClatchy high. The first home game will be a return match with Folsom next Tuesday at Bennett Park. Several other practice games will be played before the Cougars start in the Mother Lode League against Ione on April 1.

Net Tournay

Jackson is coming over Saturday to play the local tennis team in boys and girls singles and doubles, and in mixed doubles.

In preparation for the tennis season, the board of control has authorized the posting of a sign and the enforcement of the regulations against eating lunches on the tennis court. The use of the courts as a sort of outdoor garbage can has been rapidly impairing their use for the purpose for which they were originally intended.

Tuberculosis Talk

The student body heard an address on the cure and prevention of tuberculosis, and saw a movie on the same subject on Monday afternoon.

Adventurous Life

The students who ride on the bus from Georgetown are envied far and wide for the adventurous life they lead. The bus is late on an average of three days a week during the winter, and there is frequently a minor breakdown somewhere along the route.

Last week the bus did the mechanical equivalent of turning up its toes—it broke an axle. The passengers were not in the least perturbed, for they got out and built a bonfire, and proceeded to have a grand time until the rescuing bus broke up the party!

Pet Raccoon

There was a raccoon coat on the hoof out at school the other day when Peggy Arnold brought her pet raccoon, Sandy to school with her. The "coon" set up housekeeping in the Biology lab, where, due to the indulgence of the students, his diet consisted of one apple, twenty cubes of sugar, and three lead pencils. This is the first case on record of anyone eating their words before they were written!

New Power Plant To Be Built On Yuba River

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—Plans for construction of a new 10,000-kilowatt hydro-electric generating plant at the Upper Narrows dam on the Yuba river near Smartsville 25 miles northeast of Marysville, were announced by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Actual construction will begin shortly, the announcement said, and the plant is scheduled to be in operation by the end of 1942.

Forest Supervisor Edwin F. Smith and Ranger Bob Dasmann were in Lake Valley Wednesday on official business.

BRITISH CLAIM NEW SUCCESS IN AFRICA

Nazis Are Reported To Be Ready For Try At Invasion Of England

SHIMONOSEKI, Japan, (UP)—The Domei news agency today quoted Maj.-Gen. Kiofuku Okamoto, military attaché returning from the Japanese embassy in Berlin, that German landing operations in England are "now only a matter of hours."

By UNITED PRESS

Great Britain's hard hitting Imperial Army today smashed another prop from under Benito Mussolini's tottering East African empire by capturing the key Ethiopian town of Jigjiga.

The capture placed British forces within 70 miles of the railroad which links Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital, with the sea coast at Djibouti, French Somaliland.

There were indications that a final assault upon Keren, the mountain fortress of Eritrea, is in progress and that the British soon may smash through the estimated 40,000 Fascist defenders and seize Asmara, capital of Eritrea.

The dramatic events in Africa provided a backdrop for the complex movements in the Balkans where events in Yugoslavia were so clouded by conflicting claims of partisanship that it was difficult to determine the actual status beyond the apparent effort of the Yugoslavs to work out the best possible bargain with Germany.

Istanbul reported that by the end of this month Yugoslavia would have 1,750,000 men under arms for protection of her independence and territorial integrity. The Turks said that many of these troops had been massed in south Yugoslavia to guard the Vardar valley passes close to Bulgaria which the Germans would like to utilize for their attack upon Greece.

Legion Birthday Party Tuesday

Auxiliary Entertains Post At Supper; Social Evening Follows

The twenty-second anniversary of the founding of the national American Legion was observed jointly by the members of El Dorado Post and the Legion Auxiliary unit on Tuesday evening at a meeting at the War Veterans' Memorial Building.

The occasion opened with a 6:30 o'clock potluck supper for which the auxiliary was host to the Legion, and there was a total attendance of about seventy-five.

Mrs. Jessie Watts, president of the auxiliary unit, by way of noting the twenty-second anniversary of the founding of the American Legion, presented Paul Smith, post commander, with a birthday cake bearing twenty-two candles.

Some of the commander's comrades reported that "even he had to take two blows to blow out the candles."

The commanders called upon the past commanders of the post who were in attendance for short talks about the early days of the organization.

The later evening was devoted to dancing with music by the American Legion Haywire Orchestra.

SENATOR WHEELER TO SPEAK OVER RADIO THURSDAY IN OPPOSITION TO WAR

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler said that he would answer President Roosevelt's pledge of enough aid to bring "total victory" for the democracies in a radio speech Thursday night.

Wheeler, leader of the opposition to the lend-lease program, said he had no doubt that President Roosevelt and Wendell L. Willkie, the 1940 Republican presidential candidate, "will take the country into war" unless the people stop it.

Wheeler speaks over a nationwide National Broadcasting Co. network Thursday at 10:30 p. m. EST. He said it would be an answer to the President's address Saturday night before the White House Correspondents Association.

Turkish Key to the Black Sea

This is how the Turkish-owned Bosphorus, separating Europe and the Near East, appears at its narrowest point. With the Sea of Marmara and the Dardanelles, it connects the Black Sea, where Germany has submarine bases, with the Aegean Sea, where Anglo-Greek warships are reported ready for action.

SUPER MEDIATION BOARD MAY BE NAMED TODAY BY PRESIDENT

Duties Of Group Will Be To Avert And Settle Strikes At Plants And Projects Connected With National Defense Program

By THE UNITED PRESS

President Roosevelt was expected to sign an executive order today creating a super mediation board to avert and settle strikes at plants and projects where work in under way on national defense materials.

Twenty-eight strikes affected plants manufacturing essential parts for military airplanes, steel plants producing special alloys needed for bomb fuses, machinery needed to operate gunpowder plants and other materials needed for armaments.

An early settlement was expected workers at the Wright Field U. S. Army aviation test center at Dayton, O. Informed quarters at Washington said the war department was considering taking over construction work at the base if settlement is not reached promptly.

A threatened strike of AFL operating engineers that would shut off all power in the St. Louis metropolitan area was postponed pending conferences with federal conciliators and OPM officials.

SOVIETS REPORT RECOVERY OF LOOT AND ARREST OF ROBBERS OF CHURCH

MOSCOW, (UP)—The foreign office announced today that all property recently stolen from the Catholic church here had been recovered and that the thieves had been arrested.

Informing the American embassy in a note of the recovery of the property and the arrest of the culprits, the government said a gang of professional criminals with long records robbed the St. Louis church five times during December. They stole altar pieces and a chalice, which were recovered and returned to the Rev. Leopold Braun, American priest at the church, the foreign office said.

HOUSE VOTE ON AID BILL NEAR

7 Billion Dollar Measure Expected To Get Approval In Record Time

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Administration leaders expect the house to reject all amendments to the $7,000,000,000 British-aid appropriation bill and pass it today with an overwhelming vote.

Consideration of amendments to the huge money bill for putting the lend-lease program into effect began at noon. Leaders hoped to be able to send the bill to the senate by mid-afternoon. That would set a speed record for action on such an important bill, it being only a week ago that President Roosevelt sent his request to congress.

Only a handful of house members are expected to vote against the bill, many of those who voted against the lend-lease program now being willing to approve of funds for its operation.

Before a final vote can be taken today the following amendments, some of which were rejected by the house appropriations committee, must be considered:

1. A proposal to increase the fund to $10,000,000,000 sponsored in committee by Rep. John M. Houston, D. Kans.

2. A proposal by Rep. William P. Lamberton, R., Kan., to cut it to $5,000,000,000.

3. A move by Rep. Robert Rich, R., Pa., to cut it in half.

4. An amendment, by either Rep. Francis H. Case, R. S. D., or J. William Ditter, R., Pa., to specify that the fund be spent in two years. Rejected in committee, it is based on the theory that to appropriate the fund without limit as to time—except the June 30, 1943 deadline fixed in the British aid authorization measure—would be unconstitutional.

5. An attempt by Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, R., Ill., to provide for recapture of unobligated funds if congress, by concurrent resolution, terminated the British-aid authorization before the money was all spent.

6. An amendment by John M. Vorys, R., O., to require nations receiving aid to pledge as security whatever assets are available.

Schools Week In County Planned

B. E. Larson, J. H. Palmer Are Committee Of Two On Local Observance

A committee of two in charge of the observance of the annual California Public Schools Week in the county was named during the week and the formal community program will be under the direction of B. E. Larson, high school principal, and John H. Palmer, district superintendent of the Placerville Grammar School.

Both were active as members of the committee last year.

The two reported Wednesday that although the tentative plans for the observance are in mind, the fact that it is yet more than a month until Public Schools Week opens on April 28th makes any announcement of plans at this time premature.

At San Francisco on Wednesday, Lloyd E. Wilson, Grand Master of Masons of California, issued a statement endorsing Public Schools Week and commending the twenty-second observance to the attention of the 126,000 California members of the Fraternity.

Similarly, Mrs. E. K. Strong, president of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, directed the attention of the 250,000 members of the organization to the coming observance.

FIVE OUTLAWS SLAIN IN CLASH WITH ISLAND CONSTABULARY

MANILA, P. I., (UP)—The Philippine constabulary announced today that three constabulary soldiers had been killed and seven wounded in a clash with Moro outlaws near Jolo, Sulu. Five of the outlaws were slain.

PIONEER YOLO COUNTY NATIVE WAS BORN IN 1847

BERKELEY, (UP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Mrs. Mary Letitia Morrin, who was born in Yolo County in 1847, before gold was discovered in California. The town of Rumsey, Yolo County, was named for her father, who came to California in the early 1840's.

PLACERVILLE FIREMEN VOTE TO GIVE PAY TO FUND FOR NEW FIRE HALL

Department Names Committee To Work With Council Seeking Start On Building On "Pay As You Go" Basis In Near Future

The Placerville Fire Department feels the need of a new fire hall in the community so keenly that the firemen voted at their meeting Tuesday night that they will contribute their "pay" of $100 per month to a fund for such a hall.

Hoping that this amount, coupled with funds which the city has set aside and is continuing to set aside for the purpose may be enough to permit the erection of a new hall on a "pay as you go" basis in the near future—and without adding additionally to the tax rate—the firemen have named a committee on ways and means to confer with the city council on the plan.

Members of the committee are Roger Douvres, Lee Brown, Bart Arundel, William Henningsen and Chief Mark Tetrault.

Firemen said that the city has, during the past two years, been putting aside $800 per year toward the erection of a new fire hall and that by the end of this fiscal year that fund will have a total of $1,600.

They pointed out that the city, for three years past, has been paying the fire department a total of $100 per month. This has been distributed by the department each month with $25 to the chief, $10 to the assistant chief, and the balance being paid to the active membership upon the basis of $1 for each alarm answered.

At the Tuesday night meeting the department members voted they will contribute the $100 monthly to a fire hall building fund and it was noted that this amount, in addition to the $800 raised each year for the purpose by the city tax rate, would create a fund of $2,000 each year. The firemen hope that this amount annually, in addition to the $1,600 which will be on hand in city funds at the end of this fiscal year, may be sufficient to permit of an early start on a new fire hall which could immediately be occupied by the department upon a "pay as you go" basis.

Honor Court On March 27th

Boy Scouts Of County Get Advancement Based On Work During Winter

Preparations were reported Wednesday morning as virtually complete, following the meeting of the district Boy Scout committee on Tuesday night, for the annual Spring Court of Honor, which will be held Thursday night, March 27, at the Placerville Grammar school.

The Court of Honor will be the occasion for presentation to Scouts in all troops of the county the badges signifying advancement in rating which they have earned during the past few months in their Boy Scout work.

The district Scout committee meet was held at the study of the Rev. Harold Morehouse, at the Federated Church, with Chairman Don Hook, of Camino, presiding.

All troops of the county reported active interest and a lively time with the Scouts pressing strong to complete the work necessary to qualify them for advancement.

Scoutmaster Martin Luther, of Troop 57, reported the Scouts of his troop and their friends in the community had taken a great deal of interest in the window display arranged by the troop at the office of The Mountain Democrat for a period of a week during the fore part of the month.

Loren Atwood tendered his resignation as leader of the Cub Pack.

PLANE FACTORY FIRE HAS ORIGIN IN STORED LIGHTING EQUIPMENT

BUFFALO, N. Y., (UP)—Fire broke out today in a unit of the $12,000,000 Curtiss-Wright Aircraft Company under construction here.

A company spokesman said the fire was confined to a nearly-completed engineering office building, and that there was little if any danger it would spread to other parts of the plant. He said the fire apparently originated in cartons of electrical equipment awaiting installation.

NAZI FREIGHTER MAY TRY TO RUN BLOCKADE WITH CARGO OF COTTON

In Miami, Jim Talbot, adventurer, meets James Long, his exact double. Long is about to sail for Costanagua, Central American republic, in response to a mysterious appeal from Zachary Webb, veteran soldier of fortune. When unknown plot- ters slay Long, Jim assumes his identity and sails in his place. In Costanagua, he presents him- self to Zach Webb as "Long," and learns that a man named Strade is fomenting a revolution. Long's dead father is a national hero, and Zach believes that his son—supposedly Jim—can turn the natives against Strade. Meanwhile, Jim has fallen in love with Strade's beautiful sec- retary, Vara. He and Zach and Don Jose Alvarado de Montez go through the country to rally the natives to their side, but Strade denounces Jim as an impostor. Jim then tells Zach and Don Jose the truth, and accuses Strade of Long's murder. They prepare to tell the natives his story, but are fearful of outcome.

CHAPTER XXIX

AS THE three men emerged from the headman's house, they found the torchlit street in an uproar.

A huge crowd had gathered and had grown unruly from long waiting. They were mill- ing about, shouting and ges- ticulating — demanding to know when they were going to be told what proof Don Jose had brought them that Jim was James Long.

As they caught sight of Jim, the uproar increased. Some howled denunciations and threats at him; others bowed them down, calling for play.

Don Jose raised his hands to quiet them and announced that Zach would address them in the village square, where there was a rude platform from which he could speak. There followed a pell- mell, disorderly movement toward the square.

The village headman, who had been conferring with the headmen from the neighboring villages, now joined Don Jose and Zach and Jim.

He addressed Don Jose in Span- ish. "What news do you bring? Have you the proof to show the people?"

Don Jose and Zach looked at each other uncertainly.

Then Zach said, "We'd better tell him—and the other chieftains—before we go out there and face that mob. We may need their help."

"St. Senor Webb," Don Jose agreed. "They gathered the chieftains about them and carefully broke the news, relating Jim's story in all its details. As they did so, scowls appeared on the faces of their listeners. It was obvious that the chieftains were skeptical."

However, they reserved judg- ment. "It is for the people to decide," said the headman of Cheputo. "If they believe, we will believe. If they do not believe . . ." He shrugged ominously.

THEY all made their way, then, to the packed square. Pushing through the ranks of the noisy, vociferous crowd, they reached the platform and mounted it.

Zach, with Jim and Don Jose beside him, stepped to the front of the stand. Behind them, the vari- ous chieftains stood in a semi- circle.

An expectant hush fell over the assemblage. Then, Zach began speaking to them in Spanish. "You all know why you have been summoned here tonight?" he began. "A charge has been made against this young man at my side who is here in Costanagua to warn you of the danger threatening the country and to plead with you not to heed the false promises of a trouble-maker who, for his own greedy ends, would disrupt the country and plunge it into blood- shed and revolution! "This trouble-maker has made the charge that the young man is not the person he professes to be—that he is not Jimmy Long. To in- vestigate this charge, Don Jose went to Cochila. He has now re- turned to tell you what he learned. "Now, you all know Don Jose and me—and you know that we are truthful men! We have never intentionally lied to you, and we do not intend to lie to you now! I say this because some of you may not wish to believe part of what I have to tell you. But I ask you to be calm and to hear me to the end! If part of what I tell you is true, all of it is true. . . ."

The crowd was growing impa- tient and restless. They began shouting at Zach to quit wast- ing words and come to the point. After some difficulty, he succeeded in quieting them, and continued:

"Because I have never lied to you, I am going to tell you, quite honestly, it is true that this young man is not Jimmy Long. But . . ."

Zach got no further. A howl of fury went up from the natives. With one accord, at the admiss- ion that Strade's charge was true, they began surging toward the platform, yelling epithets at Jim

IN VAIN, Zach and Don Jose plead- ed with them to wait and hear the rest. Angry hoots and jeer- s drowned out their words. The chieftains, too, strove to calm the furious horde. But it was no use. Pandemonium reigned.

Don Jose threw up his hands in despair. "They will not listen, Senor Webb! It is hopeless!"

"I'll make them listen!" Zach said grimly. He quickly drew his revolver and, pointing it toward the sky, fired three shots in rapid suc- cession. The reverberation of the shots momentarily hushed the yelling crowd, and Zach seized the opportunity to rush on with his explanation.

"The reason," he shouted, "that he has come here in Jimmy Long's place is because the real Jimmy Long was cruelly and cold-blood- edly murdered just as he was about to sail for Costanagua! He was murdered to stop him from com- ing here to save the country! He was murdered by the very man whom you would now set up as your leader! He was murdered by Strade! He was . . ."

Again Zach was cut off. Re- newed howls went up from his listeners. It was all a lie, they yelled. This story of murder was just another deception of Zach's to lure them against Strade.

They were again surging for- ward, screaming with rage, de- manding vengeance against Jim flourishing clubs and knives. All they knew or cared about was that they had been tricked, and they were bent on revenge.

Only the leveled revolvers of Zach and Don Jose kept them close to the platform from climb- ing up and grabbing Jim. But the two old men dared not actually shoot into the crowd. They did not want bloodshed—unless it be- came absolutely imperative.

Then, two husky fellows, boldly ignoring the guns, did leap up and plunge toward Jim. He set him- self and lashed out at them. He tripped one with his foot, landed a hard blow on the other's jaw. As both fell sprawling into the crowd at the edge of the stand, shrieks of increased rage filled the air.

Three others, inspired by their bold example, started clambering up, but hesitated as Don Jose took direct aim at them. "Stand back!" he roared—and he plainly meant business. "I'll shoot down the next scoundrel that dares set foot up here!"

Jim, his face white, his fists clenched, heard Zach shouting at him above the din. "Draw your gun, son—draw your gun! It's the finish! We can't hold them off much longer! They'll mob you! They'll tear you limb from limb."

Seized in British Arctic Raid

C. P. Cablephoto

British raiders march 225 blindfolded German and pro-Nazi Norwegian prisoners aboard a prison ship after a daring assault on the Nazi-held Lofoten Islands off Norway. The blindfolds blot out military information that might be of value to the enemy. The British also carried away more than 300 Norwegians desirous of enlisting against the Nazis.

"HONEYMOON FOR THREE" TOPS NEW BILL ON EMPIRE SCREEN

Laughter gaiety and romance go to make up the sprightly story of Warner Bros.' new comedy, "Honeymoon For Three," which opens on Wednesday at the Empire Theatre.
The picture is full of side-splitting situations and to make matters even funnier, the three slightly screwy people that are caught in a tipsy triangle are played by George Brent,
Ann Sheridan and Osa Massen.

More laughs are provided by William Orr who plays the role of an over serious-minded lawyer who is not too scrupulous in his methods for getting his cases (if any).

The second picture on the bill, which runs for two days, closing Thursday, presents William Boyd in another "Hopalong Cassidy" story, "Doomed Caravan."

I HAVEN'T BEEN DRAFTED!

"No, I haven't been drafted. I'm only 14 years old. But I'm in training just the same. My name is Johnny Jones. I'm a newspaper boy. I've heard about a lot of great men who started their careers as newspaper boys and the training they received then must have helped them plenty. I'm going to try to be a great man myself. That's why I am a newspaper boy."

There is an army of newspaper boys of teen age just like Johnny. And they are all on the right track. Every principle of good, sound business management is incorporated in the training that newspaper boys receive... a training that equips them to face the future with every confidence that they have received the best business training available.

This newspaper is happy to be able to afford these typically American boys the opportunity they seek. We know that newspaper boys are better boys—certainly they make better men.
